1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gordon '508. Gordon '508 discloses a raisable window treatment 10 comprising rows of ties 11,13, rows of openings 14, and a top tab 6.

While Gordon '508 sets forth only two rows of ties as opposed to the claimed three rows of ties, it would have been within the purview of the artisan of ordinary skill in the art to have utilized additional rows of ties for their explicit purpose of raising the window treatment.

Regarding the claim recitation of the ties as being aligned along a common vertical axis as the openings, Gordon '508 clearly sets forth that the angle of bend or curvature may vary depending upon the desired style and depth of the finished valance. As such, one having ordinary skill in the art would have readily recognized that vertically aligning the ties with the openings would present an aesthetically pleasing style.

As to the tie and the opening as being proximate to one of the lateral edges of the window treatment, the specific location of the tie and openings in relation to the lateral edges of the window treatment is nothing more than a design preference inasmuch as this yields a predictable result.

The applicants state that Gordon does not teach or suggest that the top edge includes a sleeve as recited by the claimed invention and that in contrast Gordon is a tape or hem that is not configured to receive a rod therethrough. This is not convincing for Gordon '508 specifically sets forth that the top edge of the fabric drapery is folded over and under and formed into a hem while it is the side and bottom edges which are bound by tape. A hem is clearly capable of accommodating a rod.

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
